

Parents Help Sheet

Do your kids love telling jokes?

Do they write amazing stories and are aspiring authors?

Are they bookworms that would like to share their book reviews with other children?

We created Kidscasts as a place where your kids can publish their work for free. They love hearing their voices on our podcast and feel proud to share their work with the world. It is also great to share with friends and family abroad. Listen in to hear others and be inspired.

How to submit their work?

- 1) Record your child on your mobile phone or computer (www.online-voice-recorder.com is good!). Choose a quiet place to record in to ensure the best sound quality. Please ensure the recording is no more than four minutes and an mp3 file.
- 2) We will review and upload.
- 3) Keep listening to Kidscasts to hear your kids...we will email you too!

What to include in the recording:

We definitely want to know about your amazing child/children so please have them share:

What their name is, which country they live in and how old they are

If your child is reviewing a book please do not read out excerpts from the book. Copyright law prohibits us from sharing any extracts.
